From the President Joyce Szulc

on our website. We also visited Santa Fe, where we visited the Georgia O’Keeffe Museum, a tribute to a renowned artist who grew up in Wisconsin.

Another highlight was the Petroglyph National Monument and the Boca Negra Canyon, where we saw hundreds of petroglyphs (ancient art carved into rock).

We visited the Turquoise Museum and the Indian Cultural Center. Plus, we rode the Sandia Tram up to the Sandia Peak (over 10,300 feet high), where we had panoramic views of the surroundings. And a half-dozen Vagabonds actually fulfilled one of their “bucket list” items by riding up in a hot-air balloon.

During the week, I wondered how many more events like this the club will sponsor. It takes a lot of planning, organization and time to run these types of activities. When I look at the names of the people who help coordinate the club’s events, it is the same members over and over. To keep going forward, we need others to volunteer.

Many of you have told me that you have already done your part and have led a variety of activities in the past. I hear what you are saying. But that means that we need to recruit new members who will volunteer to keep the club going strong.

Your board recognizes that this is a challenge for all volunteer groups. You will soon be seeing a new promotional piece that we believe will help present the club in an attractive fashion for new members. We will introduce this to you at the Nov. 3 meeting. Be sure to attend!

Regards, Joyce
